

...the fact that the in vitro and in vivo results are in good agreement, and that the in vivo results are in good agreement with the results obtained from the in vitro studies. The in vitro studies have shown that the in vivo results are in good agreement with the results obtained from the in vitro studies. The in vitro studies have shown that the in vivo results are in good agreement with the results obtained from the in vitro studies.

09/890,021

Mary Lynn F. Theisen

FUKUYAMA ET AL.

1732

[illegible]

Class	Subclass	Date	Examiner
264	109, 123
425	469, 344
425	345, 352, 353	2/64	mt

[illegible]

0-2 / 2004